

Project Names 7.10

Friends, two volunteers Faina Kolodnaya and editor Vladimir Zimin have been working on a project called "Names 7.10" for the last 3 months. They have collected 900 names and photographs of the 1,200 people who died that terrible day. The goal of this project is to pay tribute to the victims of this pogrom and give the whole world the opportunity to look into their eyes for a second.

There are versions of the film in Hebrew, English, German, French, Spanish. They can be used as a volunteer project at memorial ceremonies, in libraries, in schools and on university campuses. We would like this to be broadcast on all billboards in the world, on squares and specially on university campuses.

If you have friends who are connected with public organizations fighting anti-Semitism, or student associations or diplomats and journalists in the media, anyone who might be interested in this - send it to us, the creators of the film will only be glad and give everyone the rights to use it. Their names and contacts are in the final credits. If there is a specific request, the video can be shortened or adapted to a specific organization. This is a completely volunteer project. Let's help it spread and reach the squares.

Am Israel Hai.
